

Leave the NO CALL list alone. It works fine. It's nice to know that when the phone rings it's really someone we want to talk to. Mayb it's time to put charities and politicians on the list too. They call way too much and way to often. Don't break something that's NOT broke.